PERSONAL EVERY PRIDAY TERMS OF SCHSCRIPTION :

except at the option of the Publisher.

RATES OF ADVERTISING :

For the Vermont Transcript. DIED IN HOSPITAL

alors, vice, virtue, good and ill, ming train, kind heart and busy feet, or - Hunder and the drams were still. the scutry paced the silent street. the Bospital sthat Southern sky, drogged to night her mars of rain, cold breezes ally wandering by pattering music on the window pane. or - shows heard the welcome sound, s battling wift a sure decay, ght of the camp and of the battle ground, the deer once watching far away.

years sufferer mouncil aloud with pain; to take some cooling drink and then at on his count, and strove to sleep again. the lamp horned, near the break of day the court on which one form represed tamp of life was glimmering away, -, his puters and haveyer were closed, united that the rain drops fell to be ensured pood, for, for away sub Athe pillow motor neath his head, stanced Trust him, durling, God behere, my to class her mosts again, marginagus, o what if he should . Is it possible, interrupted Loffen; and based be weath his fair brown hair. his brown look of Joy as doop,

St. Leonard's Day.

At the fact of the mountains which William, hesitatingly, in the Austrian army with left the room.

adcred his judgment less prompt to in Hoff.

THE TRANSCRIPT. past. They were only the subdued harp, as if he feared any reminiscence Besides, it was I who wished it, silenced, and an inexpressible emotion At length, after a long embrace, the hushed, we hear from afar.

the recaving the paper through the Postthe recaving the paper through the Postthe recaving the paper through the Postthe recaving the paper through the Poststart To Village subscribers and the paper by the carrier, 50 cents in married. She was betrethed to Wilin trying to do good.

The cuests had no

of 12 mences, the young man was alone with was not to take place till after midnight, here to day, and it is she alone who they lived at Prague, the garden with on 45 cents. his father-in-law, completing the aror they will be continued rangements for the approaching mar- friends of the family had been invited ringe.

advanced will be made on the "That is settled," said he, pushing per-

"And beside, we shall be more comfortable there than here." Loffen sighed.

manded William, quietly; "ah! if that smiling, is the case, let us remain here.'

"No, my son," answered the old sol- to command here." dier, laying his hand on that of the "How so ?" forester, "I do not regret this dwelp-some time past I have observed that you are sad. Alt conceal nothing from me, my father! Have I done anything to displease your

"No, No, my dear son; but this marringe you see, recalls so many memo. all voices; "you are not master in your ries! Then I am jealous of you." . own house, Major."

"Yes, jealous," continued the Major, see. Till now I have been the sole obhumoan with pain, ject of my daughter's cares. She has had only me to love and to please; now, her time and her affection are to be shared by another, I cannot have her always at my side, and the hours of solitude frighten me."

"Your fears have been divined by Dorothy," said William; "the other he should leave to her and to William day she communicated them to me the management of everything. sales out o'er him, as he wept; with tears in her eyes.

> will not cloud the happiness of Dovothy. Never mention to her what I old man's weakness—a piece of nonsense. Am I not going to live with bave but to learn new habits. I will was a silence of some moments. At length, casting a furtive glance at the

"There might be a way of prevent-

"A person who was once dear to you eys watered by the Maine. Situat- "Enough! enough, William!" inter- was returning from church, and I have perceived then that the piano had They found the music room still illufor from frequented roads, the mod- rupted the Major, rising hastily, "Dor- invited her here this evening." town has preserved its ancient cus- othy must have told you the answer I "Without consulting me?" said the trait, it was open and near it placed hanging at the desk, and the portrait and perilons calling, and success in it is, and one finds there still that gave her on that point. It is not well Major, astonished. simplicity, partly effaced in the to stir the ashes of dead affections. "It is St. Leonard's Day, father," ob- thy herself brought him his violin, re- signs of festivity. Never speak to me again on this sub- served Dorothy.

amed Loffen. He was a friend, and I exact it as a father."

tank of Major. But after the peace Now the person who lived in Egra, "Here she comes," interrupted Wil- challenged him to obey, crying that it you for having allowed me to pass England Coast." 1815, he had retired on half pay, and to whom William had made allu- liam. lajor Loffen was a man of cultivated at first found a thousand joys in this balcony and recognized Charlotte. prouches had been able to do, suffering, and buried their sorrows in nation. Age had not so calmed his formers. and at last effected. That sort of their own hearts, where each day's spirit but that vexation could still with You must certainly have only one love me still and whom I shall see no competing for medals. It is found in for chalition, which vented itself grievances added to those of yester- him, be easily changed into anger. His soul in two bodies,' said he, 'to put more! I carry away the memory of the schools for boys as well as in the saiden outbursts of anger, in spite day. Excess of anguish led at last to first impulse was to repulse both moth- such harmony into the expression of this day as a consolation for all my schools for girls, although it is more all the resolutions of the Major, was an open rupture. Charlotte went to er and daughter, and to shut himself one sentiment!' advally stilled. The blood circulat- Egra, where she had relatives, and in his room; but the presence of his Lossen again that piane, which has not The baneful effects of this mistake sysmore slowly in his veins; experience Loffen came with his daughter to live guests restrained him.

adding others; and he could at But separation did not seem to have still hesitating what he should do, when each other,' added the enthusiastic arth hear, without too much impa- soothed his irritation; whether the Charlotte appeared, accompanied by melomaniae, pressing a hand of each. an opinion contrary to his own, memory of Charlotte recalled to his William; her eyes met those of the Music is an emanation of the heart; Paternity completed this conversion. mind wrongs on his part, at which he Major and she drew back. bdued by the infantine graces of now blushed, or whether he still nursed Let me present to you, Madam de almost to love each other. wothy, the lion became a man; and his resentment against her, certain it Nugel, father, said Dorothy, without Madame de Nugel smiled and blushed, closed it, stood pale and trembling on hurtful system operates in three ways who had for thirty years resisted is that he shunned everything that raising her eyes. his friends and his enemies, be. could remind him of the mother of Loffen made a gesture of impatience. Dorothy begged her to give one of all the past, with its quarrels and its by preventing bodily exercise and recinsensibly, a slave to a young Dorothy. Her portrait had been cov- Pardon me for having dered-to those old German airs which she sang sorrows, was pardoned in that look. reation; mentally, by exacting too that it is curious that every officer, alered and consigned to an obscure clos- come' -stammered Charlotte; 'I ought so well. After a little resistance, she Loffen was then no longer the con et; her piano, carefully closed, was to have—prepared you. nation of himself; he was a new half concealed at the further end of an The Major does not need to be pre- the old ballad of 'Die blaue Rose.'

mutterings which, when the tempest is of the past. So every effort of the and I had the right to do so, re- took possession of him. The song Major gently disengaged himself, and an amusing incident on one of our young girl to combat this species of joined Dorothy. By HENRY A. CUTLER. But now a great change was about hatred had hitherto proved useless; to take place in the situation of the but hers was one of those gentle and presented to him, and at which he had day, and were received by William and for his arm. not even glanced; "we are to take the Dorothy. When they were all assemcomplete. Dorothy objected.

At the moment that our story com- of the place, the marriage ceremony he, stiffly; she is sovereign mistress again the vine clad cottage in which a St. Leonard's Day.

"A. thousand pardons, my father," "Does this removal vex you?" de- "And why so?" demanded the Major, his eyes flashing.

"Because this day you have no right

"I am sole mistresa."

"She is right," cried Counsellar

"What do you regret then? For Hertman, laughing. "But I do not understand-

"This is St. Leonard's Day !"

"Good Heaven, I had forgotten it!" "It is St. Leonard's Day!" repeated

St. Leonard's Day, which is through smiling, in reply to William's look of all Bayaria a day of rejoicing, is celeastonishment, "for you are going to be- brated at Hoff in a very peculiar mancome the first attachment for Dorothy, nor. An ancient custom ordnins that the natural order established in families be reversed on that day, and that the authority exercised by the parents transformation of the Saturnalia of lously conformed to the old custom, smilingly answered his daughter that have just told you. William, it is an accept in all things, your children for displeasure by silence. Madame de be broken—that all the happiness counting them, and noting down in your shall I not see you every day? I shall see what use you will make of attentions. All his wants were antici- Major felt his heart oppressed as if by cleaned, and soaked awhile in barrels. Europe. The stories told are some-

St. Leonard's Day.

William did not answer and there that," said Dorothy turning toward the to him, for Charlotte had forgotten William's he lowered his eyes to handful of salt in the bottom of a bar-

"Who shall it be?"

"A lady with whom I became ing the isolation which you dread," said quainted on my last visit to the Presis shared our life, and whose place can-homes. dent's daughter."

"You did not mention it to me of displeasure.

of this unknown?" said he.

Searcely did some passing irri- unoccupied chamber; he had even in- pared, in order to receive his guests As Madame de Nugel sang, all the tions recall from time to time the sisted that Dorothy should study the well, observed William.

'I, answered Dorothy, calmly.

'No one, father; but it is Saint Leon-laughing; 'it is St. Leonard's Day,'

Lotion bit his lips.

has recognized me."

tation, that he felt at heart less irrita- her hands and was sobbing. some hours their liberty, and in their ted than he would have wished. It This community of feelings annihi- remains alongside, and will take the of the Rebel government are derived plot arranged between Charlotte and of the Major. his daughter; that he called on his After all, thought he, it is her moth- the water, arrest the attention of the find a parallel for it we must go to honor to render this plot ineffectual, er.

none of his tastes. In a word, for avoid the gaze.

at Hoff. I met her accidentally as I passed to the masic room, and Loffen the house of the Major. some years ago, a ject, William: I outreat it of you as a Loffen could not restrain a gesture play this evening. Loffen glanced towards the Major. She was pale, and which follow their prey to the Gulf of Houghton, an artist of Brattleboro. toward Madame de Nugel-who ap- her voice trembled. Bohemia and he had former- Munster bowed sadly, and Loffen "And might I ask, at least, the name preached the piano and was going 'It is time for us to part,' said she; and stormy coast of Labrador. -Rob- Society at the annual meeting a beautiwas St. Leonard's Day.

come to Hoff with a little sion, was no other than the mother of Dorothy and he ran to meet her. The piece chosen by Dorothy was ever, that it was my own wish to afalled Dorothy, who had since Dorothy. Married very young to the The Major, who was seated near a one of the duets which her father, in fliet you by my presence. If I have our schools is discussed with much tographs of many Vermont field offi-Wa to be a beautiful young girl. Major, whom she loved foudly, she had window, rose quietly, leaned over the days gone by, had often played with come, it is because I could not resist ability in the report of John D. Phil-cers, making in all one of the most Charlotte. The latter remembered the prayers of this child. I wished brick, Superintendent of the Public valuable and reliable historic collecbrave, and possessed of many union; but, by degrees, the character It would be difficult to describe what still the expression which has just ap- tions made since the commencement qualities. Unhappily, the vio- of Loffen had destroyed this happi- passed in the soul of Loffen on seeing gave this piece, and the time which he as an orphan; but that in the most sol- peared. The long experience of this of the rebellion. of his temper had clouded his ness. Charlotte, high spirited and her. It was at first a mixture of sur- played it; therefore it was executed emm act of her life she should find us gentleman as a teacher, and the imhe had and bindered his advance- sensitive, could not endure bursts of prise, of confusion, and of anger; but with a wonderful brilliance. Those both near her to bless her. Pardon portant office he holds, will give added ateness of the donation. Mr. Houghat in the army. The slightest con- passion which to her seemed unjust, the latter feeling soon gained the musical talent me for having presented myself with- weight to his testimony. He says :- ton was by unanimous vote elected a the threw him into fits of pas- Far from dealing cautiously with this tery. It was evident that all had been of Loffen, had never heard him play out your permission, and for having "I am fully convinced that, in some life member of the society. The book which he regretted when they failing of her husband, she had irritat- arranged between Dorothy and her with a like correctness, charm, and taken advantage of a day, accorded to of these schools, the pupils are over- will for a few days remain on exhibiover, but for which shame and ed him by resistance, repreaches, and mother; a reconciliation was what they power. It seemed as if the two in- our child. St. Leonard's Day is over, worked to such an extent as to consti-"Perented him from apologizing. discontent; the ill feeling increased, wanted, and, to force it upon him, they struments understood and answered Monsieur; you are going to become tute an evil of great magnitude. This thus lost successively his best until at length coldness had taken the had counted upon his astonishment, each other. When they were silent, master—again going to enter into posplace of affection. Then they con- his embarrassment, his weakness, per- all the listeners applauded rapturously, session of the isolation which you classes, but it is more fully developed, Menawhile, what neither counsels cealed from each other what they were haps. This last idea roused his indig- and Counsellor Hotman ran to the per- choose.

with embarrassment.

and to play in such accord as that, is seated herself again, and commenced ing his arms.

resentment of the Major seemed to be som.

peated it to him a thousand times. The ly: its bower clematis and its borders of Supper was now announced. Each violets. He saw himself again young, Curen.-When a mackerel vessel to meet earlier for the wedding sup- guest took the hand of a lady, and the confiding, joyous. It was like an evo- reaches a place where fish are supposed

But in passing by the music room to Madame de Nugel had long quitted crew at intervals along one of her sides, raccoon family. "Tige" no sooner bled, Leffen wished to leave them, to go to the dining room, he saw that his the piane, yet the Major was still and, without a mackerel in sight, at-"Since Dorothy likes it," replied the sen if all the a rangements were guests had stopped before a large pic-standing in the same spot, his arms tempts to raise a school by throwing his ancient enemy than he made a ture which had just been hung up; it crossed and his head bowed. He was over bait. The baiter stands amid-frantic dive for him, accompanied by was the portrait which had been so drawn from his reverie by the voice of ships, with the bait box outside the a furious bark. Cooney comprehendshe said, putting her arms around his long buried in the class. Who put William, amounting to him that the rail, and with a tin cup nailed to a ed the situation at a glance, bolted inneed; "but I forbid you to leave us." that picture there?" cried the Major, howe of midnight had just struck. He long handle be scatters the bait on continently, and sought sanctuary betook the arm of Madame de Nugel, the water. If the mackerel appear, neath the ample circumference of the without observation this time and the men throw out short lines, to the lady's crinoline. The young lady 'And who gave you permission to do went to the church with the rest of the hooks of which a glittering pewter jig screamed, while the dog made rapid was in vain that he tried to remember lated whatever of resentment there hook, the excitement of the men, and from undoubted sources, and convict The Major, who had always scrupu- that he was the victim of the of the might still have remained in the soul the rushing noise of the fish in their that government of an inhumanity that he excited himself to indignation; This idea melted him. Her mother! Sometimes, after thousands have "Then," said Dorothy, "it is unders a certain softness and indulgence was and she was there, as a stranger, un-been caught by ten or twelve men of "mud and blood" King Bomba. Nugel did not try to interrupt it; but dreamed of by her and William might the fish-book what each man has pated, all his desires satisfied; only his a weight of remorse, and when his of salt water. They are then washed "Our friends shall be the judges of favorite dishes and wines were offered daughter rose-her hand clasped in and handed to the salter, who puts a her father's, William gave his to Mad- sent on shore to be sorted into three "No; but she arrived this morning The supper over, all the company ame de Nugel, and all four arrived at or four qualities, weighed, re-packed, on any grounds of preventing the the music desk of the Major. Doro- -which seemed to smile on these can only be achieved by great energy to refuse; but Connseller Hotman farewell, Monsieur, and let me thank ert Carter's "Summer Cruise on the New ful gilt-edged quarto volumn of 88 Phoyour threshold. Do not think, how-future life-but do you try to forget it. general and more harmful in the latter. been opened for so long a time-cover tem are not limited to a few individual so often to victory. He was frequently He was standing in the same spot, 'Ah! you are formed to understand again that portrait and all the past pupils, who come to school in delicate from the arms of the young couple, to the health of scores and hundreds other military orders, the counterpart and advanced, tottering, toward the who commence their school life with of those issued on the battle field. His and wished to quiet the piano; but the threshold. Their eyes met, and to the injury of pupils, -physically, your eyes on the flag!"

disposed him particularly to these ten- so rapid succession that their arms stantly killed .- Indianapolis Journal. Lossen was scated near Madame de der feelings; so that he could not rest seem continually on the swing. "To Nugel, to whom Dorothy had yielded train his tears when he heard the min- be high line, that is, to catch the her place, and who was to do the hon- ister pronounce the consecrated for- greatest number of fish," says Sabine, The U. S. Sanitary Commission have ors of the table. The Major had de- mula which gave his daughter to Wil- "is an object of earnest desire among published a "Narrative of Privations cided to avoid a scaudal, but not to liam. By an involuntary movement the ambitions; and the muscular case, and Sufferings of United States Officers concent his displeasure; indeed, he his eyes sought those of Madame de the precision and adroitness of move- and Soldiers while prisoners of War in even showed it with all the more affect Nugel. She had concealed her face in ment which such men exhibit in the the hands of the Rebel Authorities." strife are admirable. While the school The facts in this terrible arraignment > most careless observer." her presence was not even a joy pure appear. The lines are then thrown rel, takes a fish in his right hand, rolls re-salted and re-pickled.

and activity. It is carried on chiefly minding him that he had promised to Madame de Nugel now advanced in schooners averaging fifty tons, A Generous Donation .- Mr. G. H.

and more injurious in its effects in the 'Farewell,' said she, 'O you who highest divisions, where the pupils are with it; for St. Leonard's Day is over. health, and without the ordinary power ers at his bedside: "Bring up, the At these words, she tore herself of endurance. They are destructive guns;" "Advance on the left;" and door; but the Major, who had just sound and vigorous bodies. The last words, spoken in the defirium that

A STRATEGIC COON .- We witnessed he had heard the first time he had laying his hands on the foreheads of suburban streets last Saturday. A Her father gave her a severe look. seen Charlotte; and, afterward, in the Dorothy and William, who had fallen shionable young lady, got up in the Tor this is St. Leonard's Day, con- early days of their Union, she had re- on their knees beside him, said solemn- highest style of the milliner's art, and arrayed in all the glory of a five dol-The guests had approached; the voice of Madame de Nugel acted on Now may the children be blessed larsa yard silk, a twenty dollar bonnet, ham Munster, a Government forrester; Meanwhile, the day appointed for Major saw that he must ceneral his him, with magical power, and built for they have been wiser here, Doro and a three hundred dollar shawl, was they had known each other as chil- the marriage of Dorothy and William chagrin. Bewing then slightly: up again the fallen edifice of his thy; you have given us back happiness, majestically sweeping along in the didren, and had grown up together. had arrived. According to the custom My daughter is right, Madam, said happiness. In listening to it, he saw and I wish that every day in future be rection of the Fair Ground, while just behind a little boy was leading a pet coon. A countryman in a brown HOW MACKEREL ARE CAUGHT AND slouched hat and a linsey-woolsey "warmus," came along, followed bear 'yallah" dog, whose nose was scarred Major, who found himself alone with cution of all that there had been of to be plentiful, the master furis all his diagonally, transversely and laterally Major, who tound none with carried at By coars per aside his papers which M. Loffen had Normal will be inserted at By coars per aside his papers which M. Loffen had Madame de Nugel, was obliged to of the decrees and happiness in his past sails except the mainsail, brings his with the scars of many a fiercely convessel's bow to the wind, ranges his tested battle with them embers of the is affixed. The fish, if they bite at all, circles, snuffing the air, and evidently There is in this solemn act which generally bite rapidly, and are hauled bewildered to know what had become binds together forever two beings in as fast as the most active man can of the coon. The situation of the 'Yes, it is tight,' said all the guests, upon earth, and destines them to live throw out and draw in a line. As they young lady was critical and embarrassfor each other, a religious character pull them on board, the fisherman, ing. She was afraid to move for fear which moves all hearts; but it is for a with a jerk, throws the fish into a bar- the coon would bite, and the coon de-'Fear nothing, Monsieur,' said Mad- father especially that the nuptial cer- rel standing beside him. So raven- clined to leave his retreat till the dog ance de Nugel, in an undertone; 'that emeny has something grand and touch- ously do they bite that sometimes a had retired. Finally the dog was portrait represents me young, beautis ing. It is an abdication of all rights barrel full is caught in fifteen minutes stoned off, the boy dragged the coon ful and happy. You see that no one over the child whom he has reared by a single man. Some active young from his hiding place, and the young and whose happiness he confides men will haul in and jerk off a fish and lady went her way, with a lively con-The Major did not answer. They henceforth to another. The emotions throw out the line for another with a sciousness of having experienced a new passed to the dining room, and all sat which the Major had just experienced single motion, and repeat the act in sensation. As for the coon he was in-

SUFFERINGS OF FEDERAL PRISONERS. beautiful and manifold evolutions in which approaches to barbarism. To Naples, and study the treatment of political prisoners by that combination

Indeed, this Report of the Sanitary stood that you submit to the laws of gaining on him, spite of himself, it der a false name! Her mother! and the crew, the mackerel suddenly disand perfect for Derothy; for it re- aside, and all hands go to work to composed as that Committee is, of He determined at least to mark his minded her that the holicat ties might dress the fish the captain or mate first men whose names carry with them the vouchers of their veracity, cannot but "I pledge my honor to it; but we the Major could not escape her mute and in separation and hatred! The caught. The mackerel are split and circulated, whether in America or times so horrible as almost to surpass belief; and would seem to have no Inferno, yet they are proved by ev-"I shall have, however, an adviser," the first time in fifteen years, he found Meanwhile they left the church the it in salt, and places it skin downward idences which no candid mind can renear him that watchful and experi- guests embraced the newly married in the barrel, till he comes to the top sist. The brutal malignity which ac- enced eye of the woman who has couple, and went to their respective layer, which is placed skins up and prompted many of the outrages here well covered with salt. When the recorded on common decency and not be filled by the most affectionate. Dorothy had placed her arm within vessel returns to port, the fish are common humanity, is shown from the fact that they were utterly motiveless escape of prisoners. Anybody who can read the pamphlet without thrillbeen brought down as well as the por- minated, the piano open, the violin by the New Englanders, is a toilsome ing all over with righteous wrath coolness of temperament which would .'refrigerate the tropics."

St. Lawrence, and even to the bleak presented to the Vermont Historical tographic views taken in Virginia during the last three years, exhibiting The "High-Pressure" System in truthful and life-like scenes, and pho-

GEN. BIRNEY'S LAST HOURS -- During the progress of the insidious malady which was the cause of the death of Gen. Birney, he was frequently delirious. During these moments, when reason was temporarily unseated, he constantly was under the ballucination that he was still in the field at the head of the proud legions that he had led heard to exclaim by the anxious watch-

'Charlotte!' murmured Loffen, open- constant and too severe intellectual most without exception, who is now application; and morally by unneces- opposing the administration, is one 'Lucien!' answer Madame de Nugel. sarily tempting children to deceive in who has been sent from the service, And she threw herself upon his bc- order to escape the consequences of either from incompetency or miscon-